All schools must promote the spiritual, moral, social and cultural (SMCC) development of their pupils. Through ensuring pupil's SMCC development, school can also demonstrate they are actively promoting British Values.

Revised 2015 OFSTED requirements will focus on how well schools prepare pupils positively for life in modern Britain and promote the fundamental British values of:

- The Rule of Law
- Democracy
- Individual Liberty
- Mutual Respect
- Tolerance of those with different faiths and different beliefs

At St Paul's Primary school we uphold and teach pupils about British values through Collective Worship, Personal, Social, Health and Emotional (PSHE) and Religious Education (RE). We also teach and reinforce British Values through a broad and varied topic based curriculum. Through our Catholic mission these principles are firmly embedded.

We will actively challenge pupils, staff or parents expressing opinions contrary to fundamental British Values, including 'extremist' views. British Values, are reinforced regularly and in the following ways:

The Rule of Law: Children are taught the rationale for rules, regulations, good attendance etc. Good behaviour is positively reinforced through a system of house points and house teams. We have regular visits from our local police officers and fire service. Internet safety has a high priority. All staff have taken part in the Government's PREVENT programme to prevent extremism and all staff will take part in training this academic year.

Democracy: All the children in the school are part of the School Councils, although there are two representatives from each class. We have prefects from year 6 and two representatives who attend the Youth Parliament - meetings are held once every term to discuss topical issues in. We share and reinforce our values through collective worship and every class writes their own class charter/pact based on these rules. We use pupil questionnaire and Headteacher monitoring to elicit pupils' view.

Individual Liberty: Our positive behaviour policy allows pupils the freedom to make choices but we help them consider the consequences of such choices. Our staff and school council have worked hard to ensure that St Paul's Catholic Primary School is a place where bullying is not tolerated. We are a school where pupils who have SEN (educational and disability) needs are welcomed and supported as full members of our school community.

Mutual Respect: At St Paul's Catholic Primary School mutual respect and good manners is shown to all pupils and staff. We support each other irrespective of background, ability, beliefs or faith. This is reinforced through our behaviour policy and the values and ethos of the school. We welcome members of our community who come in to listen to pupils read.

Tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs: This is achieved through class discussions, circle times, assemblies, PSHE, RE, anti-bullying and visitors. Our cross-curricular topics are also used to promote this. We learn from events in British and World history - World Wars I and II, religious persecution, anti-Semitism.

Getting Started

What to Include?

We know you could go on for hours about how great your business is. (And we don't blame you—you're amazing!) But since you need to keep it short and sweet, here are a few suggestions ...

*“Your company is the greatest. I can't imagine anyone living without you.” —
Very smart customer*

Focus on What You Do Best

If you're using this booklet for a company brochure, these middle pages are a good place for a summary of competitive benefits or some of those glowing testimonials, like the one above.

You might also want to mention a few of your most impressive clients here:

- Big, important company
- Really well-known company
- Very impressive company

Additionally, you could include a bulleted list of products, services, or major benefits of working with your company. Or just summarize your finer points in a few concise paragraphs.

If your business doesn't lend itself to photos as easily as the beautiful culinary examples shown in this template, have no fear. You can just select and delete a page of photos and replace it with text using the styles provided.

A picture is worth 10,000 words, but only if it's the right one. In marketing materials, remember that any image you use—good or bad—makes a statement about your business.

Don't Forget the Mission
